

KATARÍNA BOROVÍČKOVÁ

Research Department
FRB Richmond
P.O.Box 27622
Richmond, VA 23261

E-mail: katarina.borovickova@nyu.edu
Web: <http://sites.google.com/site/katkabor>

EMPLOYMENT	Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond Economist Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis, OIGI Senior Scholar New York University , Department of Economics Assistant Professor Visiting Assistant Professor	2022 – present 2018 – 2019 2014 – 2022 2012 – 2014
EDUCATION	University of Chicago , Department of Economics Ph.D. in Economics CERGE-EI , Prague, Czech Republic M.A. in Economics Comenius University in Bratislava , Slovak Republic M.Sc. in Mathematics	Aug 2012 Dec 2007 Jul 2005
FIELDS	labor economics, macroeconomics
PUBLICATIONS	Decomposing Duration Dependence in a Stopping Time Model with Fernando Alvarez and Robert Shimer Review of Economic Studies , Volume 91, Issue 6, November 2024 Heterogeneous Job Ladders with Claudia Macaluso Journal in Monetary Economics , in Press Comment on "An Anatomy of Monopsony: Search Frictions, Amenities and Bargain- ing in Concentrated Markets" NBER Macroeconomics Annual 2023 , Volume 38
WORKING PAPERS	Consistent Evidence on Duration Dependence of Price Changes with Fernando Alvarez and Robert Shimer Conditionally accepted at American Economic Review Assortative Matching and Wages: The Role of Selection with Robert Shimer R&R Quarterly Journal of Economics High Wage Workers Work for High Wage Firms with Robert Shimer Risk Premia and Unemployment Fluctuations with Jaroslav Borovička Racial and Gender Differences in School-College-Career-Paths with Alessia Leibert and Anusha Nath Peer Effects in College Application with Angela Crema and Anusha Nath A Nonparametric Variance Decomposition Using Panel Data with Fernando Alvarez and Robert Shimer Job Flows, Worker Flows and Labor Market Policies
LECTURING	Labor Economics (NYU, undergraduate, Spring 2021, Spring 2022, Fall 2022) Third-year Paper Workshop (NYU, graduate, Fall 2020, Spring 2021) Aggregate Labor Market Dynamics (NYU, graduate, Spring 2015, 2016, 2018) Intermediate Macroeconomics (NYU, undergraduate, Fall 2013, 2014, 2015, 2016, 2018) Elements of Economic Analysis IV (UoC, undergraduate, Spring 2012)

GRANTS	NSF Grant with Fernando Alvarez and Robert Shimer (2016–2022)
PRESENTATIONS	2024: NYU, Duke, SED, NBS, NBER LS, FRB Richmond, CUNY 2023: USC 2022: Cornell, Women in Macro Conference, Barcelona Summer Forum 2021: LSE, U of Michigan, CERGE-EI, U of Munich, Wharton, Richmond Fed, NY Fed 2020: U.S. Census Bureau 2019: Chicago Fed, Minneapolis Fed, Queen Mary 2018: San Francisco Fed, Georgetown, Rochester, Rome, Stanford, SED Mexico, NBER SI Boston, Madison, Penn State, Ohio State, Columbia, Richmond Fed, Chile 2017: Atlanta Fed, Boston University 2016: Indiana U, ANU, U of Melbourne, SED, Cowles 2016 Summer Conference, 5th Rome Conference on Macroeconomics, Federal Reserve Board, Cleveland Fed, U of Illinois, U of Connecticut 2015: MN Fed, Midwest Macro St. Louis, Banco de Portugal, SED Warsaw, NBER Summer Institute, ENSAI Economics Days Rennes, MN Macro Conference, Econometrics Society World Congress, U of Maryland, SF Fed, Philadelphia Fed, MIT 2014: U of Michigan, Philadelphia Fed, Toulouse, University of Copenhagen 2013: NYU search and matching workshop, SED Seoul, Chicago Fed, St. Louis Fed, NY Fed, UCL, University of Warwick, University of Bristol, Penn State, Yeshiva University, Cornell 2012: NYU, SED Cyprus, University of Chicago, Goethe University, IZA European Summer School in Labor Economics
REFEREEING	AER, QJE, Econometrica, REStud, JoLE, IER, RED, AEJ: Macro, JPE: Micro, REStat, The Econometrics Journal, Grant Agency of the Czech Republic
PAST	The World Bank, Bratislava office, Slovakia, Consultant	2004 – 2005
EMPLOYMENT	ING Bank, N.V., Bratislava, Slovakia, Research assistant	2003 – 2004